Liaison for Improving Networks and Connections

REGIONAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

EKU's Regional Outreach Agents and the Regional Stewardship Coordinator are networking with non-profits and businesses to offer internships through EKU's Regional LINC (Liaison for Improving Networks & Connections) program to support the work and address the business and nonprofit needs of the EKU Service Region.

Students will work directly for EKU Regional Stewardship within their respective capacities. The benefit to employers is no new-hire paperwork, no payroll entries, a faculty supervisor/support person; as well as completion of task-oriented projects without long-term commitment.

LINC's location is EKU's South Region Campus in Corbin, however, interns will be placed with the employer or work remotely. Either scenario provides a faculty supervisor who will meet with the employer before the internship to outline tasks to ensure quality work and timely completion.

Summer Internships:

The non-profits and for-profit entities will pay $4,500 for a summer intern (29 hours a week) and a faculty support person.

Fall and Spring Internships:

The non-profits and for-profit entities will pay $4,000 for a fall or spring intern (20 hours a week) and a faculty support person.

Here are just three impressive examples of EKU LINC work:

Harlan County Economic Development: logo and website creation, social media creation, other office tasks as assigned;

Shaping Our Appalachian Region: press releases, social media support, events, graphic design and other tasks as assigned;

East Kentucky Leadership Foundation: website and social media creation, graphic design, press releases, media outreach, event planning, and other tasks as assigned.
